Skills You Should be Able to Put on Your CV by the end of 3rd Yr!

- IBM Data Science Professional Certificate [Coursera]
- Python for Finance: Investment Fundamentals & Data Analytics [Udemy]
- Python for Financial Analysis and Algorithmic Trading [Udemy]
  - Its important that for the above 3 courses you appeal that you have learnt how to use Python for data analysis, manage datasets (SQL) and visualisation (IBM) and to perform quantitative financial analysis using Python and the concepts and financial knowledge you have gained and that you have applied these financial programming skill in real life data and have successfully done a projects on it (it's already presented in the course like predicting stock prices)
  - Its important to highlight the projects from IBM course and the 2 Udemy courses (at least 1 for each! Just include all the projects you do in each of the courses like for IBM the final capstone, for Udemy using financial models to predict stock prices, default rates and so on!)
- Self-taught algorithmic trader (like appeal to firms that you can execute robots with certain strategies, backtest, use metatrader and python for algo and semi-algo trading and so on. Basically show off all the skills you have learnt during AT101, PT101, Excel VBA course on Algotrading101 course 한국어로 이걸 어떻게 쓸지 생각해라 잉)
